October 1976-77

On July 20 at the Chicago ALA, Vern West convened an unofficial meeting of the MPLA Executive Board. The most interesting development at that meeting was presentation by Anne Mathews of the Ad Hoc Committee on Organization proposal to reorganize MPLA.

The Committee suggested annual or biennial, two-day, totally content-oriented MPLA institutes to be held independent of any other library association. Focusing on a single theme per session, the institute would present original papers, symposium, up-date sessions, demonstrations, etc, rather than exhibits, section/roundtable activities and organized socializing. Costs of staging MPLA conventions would be curtailed, as would expense of calling Executive Board meetings — only one person would be selected from each state, making a tidy eight-person Board.

Discussion of this proposal was delayed until the next Executive Board meeting in Denver on September 17. Albuquerque should find further discussion of this provocative proposal. Copies may be requested from Joseph Edelen, Executive Secretary.

The first official activity of the MPLA/SWLA conference will be an opening night party, 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. on November 10 to toast the exhibitors. Exhibitors underwrite the convention and deserve our appreciation. Preconference attendees weary from the strain of concentrated learning will already be on hand to relax and welcome incoming exhibitors and fellow librarians from 14 states.

Earlybirds also may imbibe and jollify themselves at the JMRT Bash cosponsored by Carl Gaumer later that same evening in the Albuquerque Inn Ballroom.

The Emporia Kansas State College School of Library Science issues a standing invitation to all former students to drop in on their standing party at Albuquerque Inn (cash bar).

Ad Hoc Committee Proposes MPLA Reorganization

Standing Committee Perfects Present MPLA Organization

Welcome to Our Party!

And Kansas' Too!

Even as the Ad Hoc Committee was studying radical reconstruction of MPLA, a Standing Committee on the Constitution and ByLaws headed by Harold Erickson has been attempting to perfect the present organization. A proposal to combine Constitution and By-Laws has been presented to the Executive Board members and will be mailed to all members in October. Voting on changes is scheduled for the General Session in November in Albuquerque.

As it now stands, MPLA attempts to meet a variety of needs on a suprastate basis. We try very seriously to provide valuable content, albeit by a shotgun spattering of offerings targeted on a general theme. The diversity of content present in activities throughout the MPLA region is reflected in this bimonthly Newsletter — with attention drawn occasionally to noteworthy efforts elsewhere. This year we have also created active continuing education programs to span the gap between conferences. But MPLA provides more than even information and educational experience — it lets us get to know each other.

Conference attendees certainly can vouch for our present emphasis on balancing formal presentations with attending to affiliative needs of members; few would deny that information exchanges most readily among those who share merriment together. Trust permits exposure of weaknesses as well as strengths.

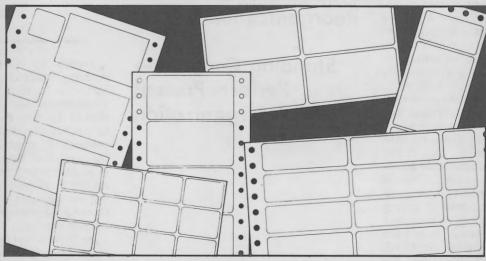

Moreover, caring grows from interaction, so that news of librarians in other states is not report of remote events, but tales of success/failure/tragedy/joy coming to people we know.

Let Change = Renewal: Organizational Change in Libraries

Featured on November 11 at the SWLA/MPLA Joint Conference, the College and University Section will discuss "Recipes for Organizational Change: MRAP and Others."

Most libraries, large or small, periodically need to reorganize, revamp and set out in new directions. Increasingly, library administrators have sought ways to accomplish these ends, concurrently building and developing inhouse planning and administrative capabilities.

The Management Review and Analysis Program (MRAP) has been employed by over twenty member libraries of the Association of Research Libraries. This meeting will look at the process and products of that assisted, self-study program, in addition to other locally-designed change efforts.

The bibliography below is provided so that conference attendees may do some advance reading on this topic and come better prepared to participate in the buzz sessions planned for the meet-

Multi-State Centers For Materials For Blind and Physically Handicapped

by Gerald Buttars

Utah State Library Commission 2150 South 300 West, Suite #16 Salt Lake City, Utah 84115

In May of 1974 the Library of Congress, Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped designated the Utah State Library Commission, Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped as the Multi-State Center serving the 14 western states. These states include Utah, Idaho, Wyoming, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Alaska, Montana, Hawaii, and North and South Dakota.

The Western Multi-State Center is one of two such centers in operation. The other Multi-State Center is located in Florida, and serves the southern states. Two more Multi-State Centers are envisioned by the Library of Congress: one in the midlands and one in the northern region. The exact locations of these two additional centers has not yet been determined.

These Multi-State Centers function as materials support units for the Library of Congress Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped in each geographical area. Working with the Library of Congress on a contractual basis, and relating directly to its regional libraries, each center will: (1) House and lend all materials available in the national program; that is, materials available from Library of Congress, (2) Act as a focal point for volunteer production of material in its area, (3) Maintain and circulate special collections of lesser-used materials including back-issues of magazines, cassette and braille books selected for limited distribution, and books produced by volunteers in its area, (4) Store and lend sound reproducers and allied equipment as well as furnishing replacement parts and back-up repair service for these same items, (5) House and ship nationally-produced program promotion material such as brochures and catalogs.

In other words, each of these Multi-State Centers will be a warehouse containing all of the materials available from the main warehouse located at the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C.

This will help all of the regional libraries in the west to get their materials from the Library of Congress much faster because their warehouse for back-up materials will now be located in Salt Lake City, rather than Washington, D.C.

The Center has only been in operation for two years. Already it has been a tremendous asset to regional libraries in the West. The western states stand to benefit more from the regional center than any other area of the country, since we are located farther away from the Library of Congress.

FULL SERVICE to ALL libraries

Park College's Mid America Inter Library Services

by Harold F. Smith, Librarian

Park College Parkville, MO 64152

In an age when mass and volume seem to be conditions of operating on a wide scale, a small college library does not seem a likely place to find a large span of cooperative activity. Yet, Park College in suburban Kansas City touches the operations of scores of other libraries, many of them in Kansas and Nebraska, with its periodicals printout service, its catalog card service, and its easy and rapid inter-library loan of books.

Although its background in cooperative sharing of library materials traces back to its location as the Library Center for the Kansas City Regional Council for Higher Education, it is a unique, one-library attempt at fostering library resource sharing. MAILS, the Mid America Inter Library Services program has several components.

First, its periodicals printout service provides articles that a requester has located through one of several periodicals indexes. MAILS holdings include over 1,000 titles indexed since 1965. By paying an annual fee, the user gets same-day service at five cents per exposure. The MAILS membership for periodicals printouts last year numbered 105.

The card service provides catalog card sets at a reasonable price to over 150 libraries coast to coast. Here again, the emphasis is on cheap, rapid filling of card orders — in about a week. For books published after 1969, cards can be furnished with LC call number. Cards for pre-1969 books are printed off the National Union Catalog and the Library of Congress Catalog. Often users will type their own card as master for reproduction of a set.

Mid America Inter Library Services also tries to simplify inter library lending of books. If it has a book another library needs it will lend it on the basis of a letter, a phone call or a TWX request. MAILS has a daily telephone loop, a round-robin passage, among a number of libraries in western Missouri and eastern Kansas.

Twice a year MAILS also sponsors a workshop meeting, in Spring 1976 on the theme, "What To Do When the Censor Comes." Most recently, it also developed a listing of periodicals holdings in area libraries, with information about their printout capabilities, per/exposure charges, and willingness and speed in responding to requests.

While Mid America Inter Library Services does not envision unlimited growth for itself, it does see that it can provide a useful service in stimulating these inter-library activities. It has found that by opening up its collections and sharing its resources more readily, its own accessibility to resources has been widened. And in the process, it has made lots of new friends!

Now available for the first time in book format . . . combined cumulative indexes to the complete runs of 531 journals in History, Political Science and Sociology

COMBINED RETROSPECTIVE INDEX SETS

The "NEXUS" computer data base, originally created as a custom bibliographic search service in the social sciences, has been acquired by Carrollton Press and is being published for the library community in 25 hardcover index volumes.

More than 350,000 articles from the backfiles of scholarly journals dating back to 1838, were indexed by Subject and Author as input to the NEXUS computer file, and later reprogrammed by us for composition in folio-size page format.

The availability of the NEXUS data base in book form will not only result in its more frequent and convenient use, but it will also make it available to students and other patrons who could not afford to spend their own funds for computer searches.

Single-Source Bibliographic Access Eliminates Non-Productive Search Time

Until now, anyone wishing to make exhaustive retrospective searches on certain subjects, or even locate works whose dates of publication were unknown, have been forced to search year-by-year through numerous annual volumes issued by several different serial indexing services or in some cases in the cumulative indexes to individual journals.

The new Combined Retrospective Index Sets for History, Political Science and Sociology, however, provide not only the equivalent of long-term combined cumulative coverage of several of the indexing services, but also access to the many earlier issues of those journals which were being published for many years before the indexing services started covering them. Moreover, many of the journals, such as those in the field of "State and Local History," have never been adequately covered by general indexing services.

Separate Keyword Indexes Under 585 Categories Provide Precise Subject Access

The three sets contain 585 subject categories listed under 101 major subject headings. Because of the size of the data base, and the fact that there are an average of 600 entries for each of the 585 subject categories, we modified the NEXUS programs to produce separate, self-contained keyword indexes to all entries listed under each category. As a result, each entry is listed under an average of 3.8 keywords, which gives a total of 1.3 million subject entries for the entire collection.

UPDATING

Each set will be kept current with an Annual Supplement volume containing both subject and author entries. Beginning with coverage of journals issued during 1975, the supplements will also include entries from the backfiles of other journals which will be added to the data base. Prices and delivery dates will be announced.

COLORADO

People are in news in Colorado. Virginia Boucher is taking a one-year leave of absence from her position as head of the Interlibrary Loan Service at the University of Colorado Libraries to serve as Network Coordinator for the Colorado State Library until June 30, 1977. This networking office was recommended by the Colorado Council for Library Development and represents the serious approach to networking being enacted presently throughout Colorado library systems.... The Colorado State Board of Education also boasts a new Deputy State Librarian, Anne Marie Falsone, formerly from Tennessee, who has been working with the Dept. of Education since 1972.... After 31 years without a vacation, Maryann Duggan retired this summer, leaving WICHE under the direction of Eleanor A. Katz has left her position of Director of the Center for Communication and Information Research at the University of Denver to work as a research scientist at the university's Denver Research Institute in the Knowledge Utilization Program.... And the University of Denver Graduate School of Librarianship announces the appointment of its new Associate Dean, John T. Eastlick who has been teaching there since 1950.

KANSAS

People also are newsmaking in Kansas. Drs. Patricia Beilke and Zubaidah Isa are joining the faculty at Emporia Kansas State College School of Library Science, replacing Margaret Stutzman and Marjorie Sullivan who retired this summer.... Ellen H.

Brow, Latin American bibliographer of the University of Kansas Libraries, is one of five outstanding librarians chosen as the first scholarship recipients under the Council on Library Resources' new Advanced Study Program for Librarians.

Accreditation has been approved at the School of Library Science at Emporia Kansas State Library College following the Committee on Accreditation's July 22 meeting during ALA.

NEBRASKA

Handicapped individuals and their special needs for information access has been the focus of several programs under the guidance of the Nebraska Library Commission. A four-person Advisory Committee has just been set up for the Commission by the National Federation of the Blind of Nebraska. Since January 1976 Mary Louise Dutcher has been conducting a reader survey of blind and physically handicapped borrowers with results indicating they are mostly older (over age 65), primarily visually handicapped, interested in library materials both for entertainment and information, and highly approving of the service they receive.

Online location service of the Nebraska Union Catalog through the Nebraska Library Commission's Info-Line has now been extended to the state's technical community college libraries as well as the academic and regional public libraries.

NEVADA

Government documents are available on a computerized bibliography in Nevada—the first state with such full cataloging of state and local government publications, both retrospective and current, in a machine-readable format. Newly hired as Life and Health Sciences Librarian at the University of Nevada, Reno, Library, Joan S. Zenan comes from the University of Alaska Arctic Environment Information and Data Center.

NORTH DAKOTA

Revenue sharing arrangements for local libraries was surveyed by the North Dakota State Library Commission during the last half of last year. Figures released this summer indicate only about two-fifths of local libraries receive any federal funding through revenue sharing; the city or county operating a public library must continue to bear all costs through local mill levies.

SOUTH DAKOTA

Library funding for local libraries, particularly in rural areas, is also a major concern of the South Dakota State Library. Combined library facilities utilizing school and public library materials have been approved by the Legislature, with creation of the Community Library seen as a solution particularly appropriate for South Dakota.

Continuing education on the basis of library service (reference, cataloging, selection and interlibrary loan) will be available through four workshops to be taught during the coming fall and spring under the auspices of the South Dakota State Library.

UTAH

Awards have been garnered by several librarians this summer. The Salt Lake County Library received its second John Cotton Dana Public Relations Award on July 19 at ALA for production of an imaginative television spot.... The Holy Cross Hospital library received a $3,000 award from the National Library of Medicine Improvement Grant to be applied toward the purchase of additional library materials.... Along with two other faculty members, Martie Collett at the Weber State College Stewart Library has been awarded the Cortez Faculty Award for creative achievement in her work with special collections.... And the 1976 Ralph D. Thomson Award for excellence and scholastic achievement in Instructional Technology and Library Science was granted to Anne Brewer Davis of the Eccles Medical Sciences Library, upon her graduation from the University of Utah Dept. of Educational Systems and Learning Resources.

Automated circulation systems are presently being installed by CLSI at the University of Utah Libraries and the Salt Lake County Library System, with activation anticipated within the next few months. The Salt Lake County Library System is also expanding its facilities at the Whitmore Library, ultimately bringing under one roof for the first time its film library, extension department and technical processing in addition to the present services.

WYOMING

Volunteer power has been used to staff branch libraries in Campbell County and Carbon County throughout the summer.

Cable television in the library will be continued as a permanent part of the service at the Laramie County Library after termination of special funding for CIT CAT's first year of operation.... The Natrona County Library cable television studio has begun videotaping depositions for court use.

Awarded to the Sweetwater County Hospital Library, the National Library of Medicine Improvement Grant of $3,000 will go toward strengthening the hospital's collection.

Library Services Coordinator at the University of Wyoming's newly instigated Casper Program, Ralph Kirshner, formerly from Maine, began his duties during August.

TALK TOUS.

In the 1940's, when libraries talked about the need for book cover protection, our people listened. Result: we developed the acetate book jacket cover.

In the 1950's, when libraries talked about the need for a way to make popular titles available to patrons while they were still popular, our people listened. Result: The McNaughton book leasing plan.

Our people are listening today as libraries talk about the need for better book ordering and cataloging. Result: our Library Automation Division offers a number of sophisticated new systems to aid in catalog management and the acquisition process.

At Brodart, we exist for one reason alone—to provide academic, public, school and special interest libraries of all sizes with solutions to problems, your problems. Result: we offer products and services that fulfill needs in every area of library operation, from supplies and equipment, to furniture, to book and recordings acquisitions, to automated systems.

MATH WITHOUT TEARS By Roy Hartkopf

"The author should be commended for the ease w which he handles complicated mathematical concepts. His anecdotal approach in which he indicates through a plain anecdotal approach in which he indicates through a plain story the nature of a given concept, can be emulated by many mathematics teachers. His skeptical attitude toward some of the sacred cows of mathematics is very refreshing and in some cases, amusing. He covers the field from the basic concepts of arithmetic through logarithms, momography, graphs, trigonometry, series, and calculus. This is a broad spectrum of subject matter to cover one book, but by sticking to basic ideas and not getting involved in detailed calculation, Hartkopf succeeds admirably. Although the book is aimed at adults not specifically trained in mathematics, bright high school youngsters can read it with pleasure and profit. 151 line drawings. Highly recommended."—Library Journal ISBN-87523-173-X

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC SERIALS SUBSCRIPTION SERVICE TO ALL TYPES AND SIZES OF LIBRARIES

COMPREHENSIVENESS

EBSCO services periodicals, newspapers, annuals, yearbooks, irregular book/monographic series (numbered or unnumbered), and continuations. Our computerized price file lists over 100,000 titles. However, we gladly research any title ordered and do not expect the customer to provide publisher name and address. Our research cycle is thorough and provides a quick answer if we are unable to identify the publisher. We service titles from all nations of the world. The only titles we cannot (normally) service for you are order-direct by the publisher's requirement. (However, if you are a librarian who desires to place 100 per cent of all serials with a single agency, we can handle even the order-direct publishers for you.)

FLEXIBILITY

We believe what we do for you and how we do it should be determined by your needs. We have suggested procedures and formats. Our order processing and records are computerized, and we are able to employ our computer to service any special request you may have. In the event you have a request which a computer, for some reason, cannot honor, we keep our typewriters handy and a perfect willingness to do whatever is necessary to suit your needs.
